Universal Love Foundation (ULF)

ULF is dedicated to assisting single parents in their struggle to raise healthy children by providing referral services to improve their lives on a case by case basis. ULF has established an annual fund to support the single parent families of patients being treated at Childrens Hospital Los Angeles. With children being the main focus of all ULF activities, there is an obvious common ground in the objective of these two organizations. In addition, ULF's House of Hope Grief and Loss Center reaches out to siblings and significant others who are struggling to cope with the circumstances of losing a loved one.
