ULF MISSION

Universal Love Foundation (ULF) was formed over fifteen years ago. The foundation mission is to help single parents, regardless of race, creed, religion or political affiliations, by providing referral services to improve their lives on a case-by-case basis. ULF works on the premise that through an organized effort and with a strong support system, our members can build a better future for themselves and their children. Our organization will assist these parents in creating a healthy family environment

The past few years have been a period of growth and understanding in the needs of our community for ULF. This journey has resulted in the development of a center to help children and families with the loss of a loved one. Grief is a natural process that takes time and understanding. House of Hope provides that support.

HOUSE OF HOPE MISSION

The mission is to create an environment to restore hope to grieving children and their families. Peer support groups are offered by trained grief facilitators to lead support to grieving children, teens and families to help foster healing, coping, and to secure family relationships.
